5 Governance

(i) Organisational Chart

(ii) Grievance Redressal Mechanism for Faculty, Staff and Students

Yes. The Student Grievance Redressal Committee (SGRC) is constituted to provide a structured, impartial mechanism for addressing student grievances related to academic, administrative, and institutional matters. The committee ensures that complaints are examined promptly, fairly, and confidentially, in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by regulatory bodies. The SGRC aims to safeguard students' rights, promote transparency, and foster a supportive academic environment. It also plays a preventive role by identifying systemic issues and recommending corrective measures to enhance institutional effectiveness and student satisfaction.

Faculty: Grievances can be raised, and are discussed and resolved by the Director as per institute guidelines, and if required, addressed in the Faculty Council meeting.

Staff: Grievances can be raised, and are discussed and resolved in the appropriate forum.
