

Xavier Institute of Management & Entrepreneurship (XIME), Kochi, established in 2013, is one of India's top B-Schools founded by Prof. J. Philip, former Director of IIM Bangalore and Dean of XLRI, Jamshedpur.

Part of the XIME network with campuses in Bangalore, Kochi, and Chennai, it follows a common curriculum, admissions, and placement system. Located in Kalamassery's Hi-Tech Park near Start-up Village, XIME Kochi offers PGDM programs in Finance, Marketing, HR, Analytics, and Operations, fostering industry interaction and developing future-ready leaders.

X-IMPACT

XIME Kochi's Empressario Club hosted XIMPACT, India's first Earn While Learn (EWL) Summit, bringing together students, industry leaders, and entrepreneurs. The event featured speeches from leaders of XIME Kochi, Dhanlaxmi Bank, and Meeran Group, stressing experiential learning. Highlights included a Power Talk by John Kuriakose, a panel discussion on EWL policy and practice, workshops on digital earning, and "Coffee with CEO" sessions for informal networking. The summit attracted strong participation both online and offline, reinforcing XIME Kochi's commitment to entrepreneurship and skill development through EWL models.

TUCKSHOP CELEBRATION

XIME Kochi came alive as the campus celebrated the Tuck Shop's birthday with a cheerful cake-cutting ceremony attended by Girish Sir, Ranjana Ma'am and Sony Sir. Students then enjoyed exciting games like Dart and Tambola, winning fun rewards and filling the space with laughter and friendly competition.

The Tuck Shop is more than just a place to grab a quick snack. It is a student-driven initiative that teaches real management skills. By running the shop, students gain hands-on experience in finance, operations, inventory management, customer handling, teamwork and decision-making. It has become a small but meaningful learning space on campus where everyday tasks turn into practical lessons.

This year's celebration highlighted not only the joy of the occasion but also the spirit of ownership, learning and community that the Tuck Shop represents. It continues to be a special part of campus life where fun meets learning and students create lasting memories.

HR CONCLAVE

On 21st November 2025, HRuday successfully organized the HR Conclave 4.0 at XIME Kochi, themed "The Evolving Edge: HR, Gen Z & the AI Era." The event featured participation from around 73 individuals from both industry and academia, including many external chief guests who shared valuable industry insights related to HR. The conclave provided a platform to discuss contemporary HR trends and challenges, especially in the context of digital transformation and generational shifts in the workplace.

Key highlights included speeches from distinguished HR professionals such as Mr. Rajanarayanan N, EVP & Chief HR Officer of a leading organization, among other industry experts who offered updates and industry news pertinent to the HR domain. Discussions revolved around the future of work, the impact of AI, and how HR practices are evolving to meet the needs of Gen Z employees.

The conclave served as a valuable knowledge exchange forum that linked academic perspectives and real-world HR trends, emphasizing continuous learning, leadership development, and innovative approaches for workforce management. Attendees gained firsthand insights into emerging HR strategies aligned with technological advancements and workforce diversity.

XPROWESS TAKES XIME BY STORM: A DOUBLE DOSE OF FUN, FITNESS, AND FIERCE COMPETITION!

XIME Kochi witnessed not one but two back-to-back power-packed events this semester, courtesy of the ever-energetic Team XProwess. From an electrifying turf inauguration to a brain-tickling sports quiz, the campus buzzed with excitement, laughter, and a whole lot of team spirit.

TURF INAUGURATION: WHERE THE RIBBON FLEW AND THE CHEERS GREW!

On 17th October 2025, XIME's brand-new turf officially opened its gates and trust us, it wasn't just the ribbon that was cut, the suspense was too! The event was graced by President Mr. Anil Philip, along with key dignitaries including Prof. Alok Krishna, Mr. Jomy Lawrence, and Faculty Coordinator Dr. Bijith George Abraham.

As the ribbon fell, the crowd erupted, and the turf felt alive for the first time. The celebrations rolled straight into a lively exhibition football match where students and faculty showcased everything from fancy footwork to questionable aim, but all in good spirit! With loud cheers echoing across the ground, it was a day that perfectly blended fitness, fun, and community.

SPORTS TRIVIA: WHEN BRAINS TOOK OVER THE GAME!

Just a month earlier on 11th September 2025, XProwess had already warmed up the student crowd with SPORTS TRIVIA, an interactive quiz event that turned classrooms into mini game arenas. Powered by the Kahoot app, the quiz brought 91 enthusiastic participants across three sections together in a battle of wits.

From high-speed MCQs to picture-based puzzles, students raced against the clock and each other. The competition was fierce, but Group 2 — featuring Karthik Rai, Lenina Reddy, Tressa Wilson, and Nunna Anuhya emerged victorious, proving that sports knowledge is indeed a sport of its own!

The event wrapped up with certificates, cheers, and photo moments that captured the spirit of healthy competition and teamwork.

MADX EVENT CHRONICLE

Over the past five months, MadX has been at the heart of campus festivities, bringing life, colour, and energy to every celebration. With a series of celebrations that blended tradition, creativity, and student enthusiasm, each event became a memorable part of our college experience. Here's a fun throwback to everything we pulled off.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The term began with a heartfelt Independence Day celebration. After the official flag hoisting ceremony, the atmosphere shifted into a warm, lively mood with spontaneous jamming sessions and dance circles. Students came together in a beautiful blend of patriotism and youthful spirit, making the morning both meaningful and memorable.

GANESH CHATURTHI – WELCOMING BAPPA WITH DEVOTION

For Ganesh Chaturthi, MadX arranged a graceful Ganesh murti, filling the campus with festive charm. The community gathered for a serene aarti, with many students dressed in traditional attire. The celebration created a wholesome environment that brought everyone together in prayer, culture, and positivity.

ONAM – CULTURE, COLOUR & CAMPUS AESTHETICS

Onam stood out as one of the most visually captivating events of the year. As an official college celebration, the campus was decorated beautifully with an elaborate pookalam that immediately became the centre of attention. The ambience reflected the richness of Kerala's traditions and offered everyone a chance to experience cultural elegance firsthand.

DIWALI – LIGHTS, FLASHMOBS & FESTIVE EXCITEMENT

October brought the sparkle of Diwali, filling the college with warmth and illumination. The campus glowed with diyas and lanterns, setting the perfect festive tone. MadX organised lively flashmobs, surprising the crowd and pulling everyone into the celebration. The evening concluded with a responsible firecracker display, creating a joyous and light-filled atmosphere.

NAVRATRI – GARBA, TWIRLS & NON-STOP BEATS

Navratri was all about Garba fever!

MadX hosted a vibrant evening where students arrived in colourful outfits and danced like there was no tomorrow. From classic Garba steps to freestyle madness, the dance floor never stopped moving. It was festive, energetic, and exactly the kind of chaos we love.

THE ULTIMATE BID CARNIVAL – IPL AUCTION

IPL Auction Frenzy: When Finance Met Fireworks

Forget about Wall Street—welcome to the wildest stock market of all, the IPL Auction at XIME Kochi! On the epic afternoon of November 1st, 2025, students traded spreadsheets for cricket stats and transformed into dollar-slinging and player-chasing—all for the glory of assembling the ultimate Playing XI. Picture this: bright minds armed with only INR 600 million (and, let's admit, some solid ego), battling in a warzone where every million counts and every bid could make or break.

Bidding Battles and Brow-raising Twists

The scene? Intense. Picture teams eyeing each other like auction sharks. The budget discipline was, of course, a suggestion. Some teams got so carried away in the spirit of competition, they nearly emptied their purse while bidding for one superstar, letting pride drive their decisions—because who needs a balanced team, when you can own bragging rights over Rohit Sharma's digital twin? (Rohit Sharma got the highest bid, just for your knowledge)

Savvy Winners and Strategic Shenanigans

The winning squad (Ajita, Manav, Gaurav, Dipanshu—take a bow!) didn't just splurge upfront—they burned through a big chunk of their purse on the first two or three players. But much like seasoned poker players, they pivoted, played with a different approach, and snuck in strategic picks while everyone else was counting the (lack of) cash in their wallet. Their perseverance along with mindful strategy has led them top the table at the end.

Comic Relief and Bidding Bluffs

Of course, what's an auction without a dose of comedy? Picture teams trolling rivals by tossing out high bids, then gracefully withdrawing, leaving competitors with comically overvalued players and a shocked purse. The MC, with the energy of a live wire and wit sharp enough to slice through the tension, kept the audience roaring, further amping up the chaos and cheer.

3.5 Hours of Unstoppable Fun

The event stretched a whopping 3.5 hours, with participants glued to their seats, strategizing through every twist and turn. Every million spent was either a masterstroke or a meme in the making.

College's First Auction Event: A Grand Success

As the curtain fell, one truth reigned supreme—finance isn't just about numbers, it's about nerves. This first-ever bid interval was proof that mixing strategy, ego, and cricket could produce drama bigger than the IPL final. Here's to more auctions, more strategy and more fun.

XSEED's Visit to SOS Children's Home: A Day That Touched Our Hearts

The members of XSEED Club, XIME Kochi, visited the SOS Children's Home—a place filled with smiles, stories, and emotions. We were warmly welcomed by curious, joyful faces. Despite their hardships, the children's energy and hope lit up our day as we played games, shared chocolates, and laughed together.

One boy, Murali, stood out with his quiet charm. Preferring sketching and studying biology over football, he shared dreams of exploring the world—a reminder of the depth and aspiration in every child.

As we left, a boy recalled a visitor from last year, saying, "We don't get many visitors, so we remember everyone." His words touched our hearts, reminding us that true strength lies in choosing happiness and kindness despite challenges.

The visit reflected XSEED's true spirit—empathy, connection, and understanding real lives. It wasn't just an event; it was a lesson in humanity that will stay with us forever.

~By Vaishnavi Singh, XSEED Club Reporter "A day full of laughter, learning, and love — moments that will forever stay in our hearts."

The Inspira Club at XIME Kochi continues its impactful journey with its Legacy Distinguished Speaker Series, featuring transformative sessions that connect students with industry leaders and practitioners. These exclusive events foster learning and innovation, building the next generation of future leaders.

Beyond the Private Sector: Career Opportunities in Government

On August 9th, 2025, Inspira Club hosted Mr. Joe Sebastian, retired IRS Officer, author, and Hyku poet, at the iconic Maria Philip Auditorium. Mr. Sebastian's session on 'Beyond the Private Sector: Career Opportunities in Government' was a revelation for many aspiring civil servants. With over three decades of exemplary public service, he shared his journey, insights into civil services, clearing the UPSC examination, and demystified several myths about government careers. His advice highlighted the importance of patience, discipline, and commitment, giving PGDM students a realistic perspective on transitioning into civil services. The session concluded with an engaging Q&A, where students interacted for personalized guidance.

From Classroom to Corporate: Making It Real

The 6th interactive session held on August 23rd, 2025, featured Ms. Merin Philip, Director-HR at CLASP. Her rich career journey spanning advertising, product management, HR, and consulting illuminated the transition from academics to corporate environments. Ms. Philip emphasized personal branding, resilience, and adaptability as essential for career development. She motivated students to embrace failures, learn continuously, and nurture meaningful professional connections. The session ended with actionable takeaways: 'Respect culture, but never silence your voice; trust yourself and start with sincerity.' Her career stories and life lessons ignited self-belief among students preparing for placements.

Making the Best Use of Time at XIME

On August 29th, 2025, Dr. Manoj Varghese, Chief People Officer, Tonik Bank (Philippines), and former Director at XIME Kochi, shared practical strategies for maximizing academic and professional success. Dr. Varghese drew on his vast experience at Google, Facebook, Maruti, and Infosys, exploring entrepreneurship, accounting, and continuous growth. He explained how financial literacy, strategic thinking, and embracing a global perspective are key for future leaders. Insights into investment strategies, analytical thinking, and balancing entrepreneurship with managerial skills left a lasting impact. The interactive session reinforced the value of constant learning, adapting to new challenges, and dedication beyond the classroom.

FAVORITE COLLEGE MEMORY

My favorite college memory will always be the placement season — the energy, the mutual support, and the genuine happiness everyone felt for each other were truly unmatched. Those late-night resume review sessions, filled with encouragement and teamwork, still stand out vividly.

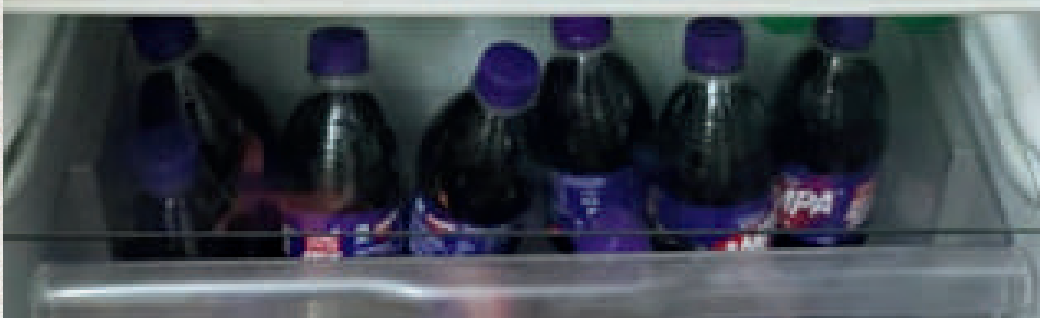

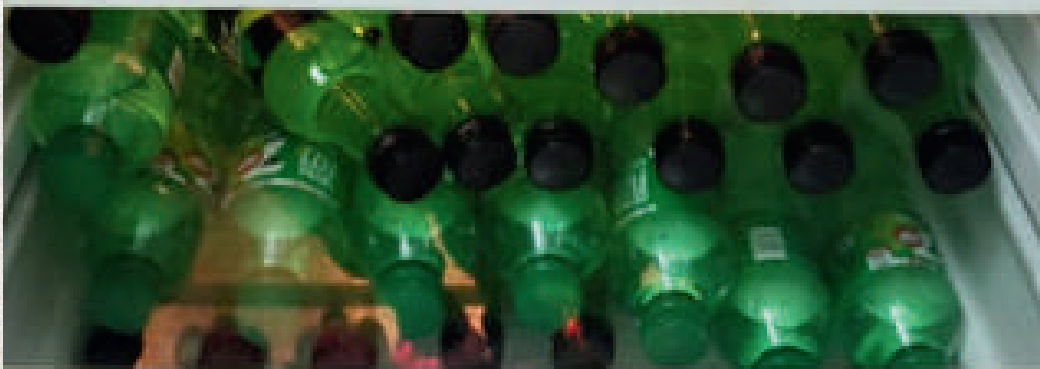

My professional journey began with Infosys, which was a dream start and truly meant the world to me. It gave me the perfect head start in my career. Today, I'm proud to be working with Accenture Strategy as a Management Consulting Professional.

Over the years, I've learned that LinkedIn is a game-changer — networking truly determines how far you go. And never shy away from data — it's what drives smart decisions.

I genuinely believe I've been blessed with the right opportunities at the right time, but those moments only arrive when you put in consistent effort and intent.

XIME was the push I needed — it set me on the path to where I am today.

Night OWL

Night Owl: When Ideas and Appetites Awaken 🌙

Late nights at XIME Kochi just got tastier! Born from the XOps Club's innovative spirit, Night Owl is more than a food stop — it's a student-run hub keeping energy high for all-night learners and dreamers. From hot maggi to crunchy snacks and chilled drinks, it serves comfort when hunger strikes after midnight. Every bite at Night Owl reflects real operations learning in action — managing stocks, pricing, and service — all handled by students themselves. It's where classroom theory meets campus life, ensuring that at XIME Kochi, no idea (or student) goes hungry!

WHEN THE FUTURE CAUGHT FIRE

X-Oration's Debate War: India at the Edge of World War III

On 30th October 2025, JA Hall wasn't just a venue, it became a war room of ideas. The atmosphere was electric as the X-Oration Club transported the audience into the year 2033, a world trembling on the brink of World War III. The challenge was bold, urgent, and chillingly realistic:

"As the world nears World War III, should India lead the new world order or stay neutral to protect its interests?"

Two dynamic teams stepped into this high-voltage arena:

Batch 12

Aditya Bhargava, Sudeshna Shyam, Alex Martin

Batch 13

Jessica Suzanne J, Nunna Anuhya, Darin Dwiju Varkey

What followed was nothing short of a battle of futures.

BATCH 12 CHAMPIONED THE IDEA OF INDIA RISING AS A GLOBAL TORCHBEARER, ASSERTIVE, DECISIVE, AND READY TO RESHAPE WORLD POLITICS. THEIR ARGUMENTS CARRIED AMBITION, STRATEGY, AND A VISION OF INDIA STEPPING INTO GLOBAL LEADERSHIP WITH CONFIDENCE.

BATCH 13 COUNTERED WITH SHARP, GROUNDED REALISM. THEY ARGUED FOR STRATEGIC NEUTRALITY, NATIONAL SECURITY, AND THE WISDOM OF STAYING ABOVE GLOBAL CROSSFIRES. THEIR POINTS HIT HARD, REMINDING THE AUDIENCE THAT SOMETIMES RESTRAINT IS THE GREATEST STRENGTH.

REBUTTALS FIRED BACK AND FORTH LIKE DIPLOMATIC MISSILES. EACH ARGUMENT REBUILT THE WORLD; EACH COUNTER-ARGUMENT REDEFINED IT.

BY THE END, THE AUDIENCE WASN'T JUST WATCHING A DEBATE THEY WERE WITNESSING THE FUTURE BEING IMAGINED, CONTESTED, AND REWRITTEN.

WITH THIS EVENT, X-ORATION ONCE AGAIN PROVED ITS ESSENCE:

WHEN VOICES RISE, IDEAS IGNITE, AND WHEN IDEAS IGNITE, LEADERS ARE BORN.

A Heart Full of Paws

~Priyadarshini Das, Batch 13

Oreo purred, Cookie played,
Love in fur and joy displayed.
College came, the miles grew wide,
Yet love stayed, it did not hide.

By the gate, faint meows called,
New paws found me — love enthralled.
Though far from home, my spirit saws,
I walk through life with paws and heart.

From Nervous Beginnings to a Family Found

~Ayush Kumar, Batch 13

With trembling heart I stepped inside,
New walls, new dreams, no guide beside.
But unknown faces turned so kind,
In their warmth, my peace I'd find.

A sister found, a roommate true,
With every day, my comfort grew.
XIME became more than I knew—
A home where friendships bloom a new.

Dear river, what did you do?
Dancing at your own melody,
bearing the thrashes from rocks,
why do you still flow in the valley of pain?
Rippling laughter in the sun,
and dewy eyes in the moonlight,
you embraced the storm,
and kissed the wilted grass,
why do you still care for the flowers with no regrets?
You quenched the thirst,
soothing the wounds you never caused,
why you still carry the weights of all the ungrateful pebbles?
You are the stillness,
the roar of the quite wise minds,
Tell me, what path are you carving?
Tell me, why you still flow in valley of pain?

Emerging AI: Shaping a Smarter Tomorrow

Emerging artificial intelligence is transforming the way we live, work, and communicate every single day. It helps us solve complex problems faster than ever before — spanning healthcare, education, business, and beyond.

Today's AI systems go far beyond earlier models. They can understand language, interpret images, and even sense emotions with remarkable accuracy. These intelligent tools don't just speed up our work — they enhance decision-making, offering smarter and more precise insights.

AI is becoming increasingly personal, learning from our behaviors and preferences to provide thoughtful suggestions. It fuels creativity too, empowering humans to write, draw, code, design, and innovate in entirely new ways.

As AI continues to evolve, it opens doors to opportunities, careers, and ideas once thought impossible. Yet, this technological growth also reminds us of our responsibility — to use AI ethically, transparently, and with compassion.

Ultimately, emerging AI strives to make life simpler, more efficient, and deeply connected. And while machines may learn and adapt, true progress happens when artificial intelligence works hand in hand with human wisdom and empathy.

~ Deepankar Jangid, Batch 13

Some beginnings feel ordinary and some feel like they will be remembered long after the curtains fall. This is one of the latter kind. Being able to write for the first edition of Echoes of XIME is a milestone I never saw coming, yet one that fills me with indescribable gratitude. I am humbled to be a part of courage, effort and dreams stitched together. May this publication rise high, carrying the voices and stories that deserve to be heard.

College means different things to different people.

For some, it is a checklist to complete, a station on the journey, something to cross and move on. For some, it is love stories and butterflies. For some, it is CGPA, resumes and placements. For some, it's freedom: the late dinners, the hostel corridors, the music echoing past midnight. For some, it is survival, attendance battles, caffeine dependence and endless projects and ppt presentations. And for many of us, it's an attempt to experience everything life has to offer in these two years, every story unfolding in the corridors, every burst of laughter echoing in the canteen, every burning deadline, every victory, every stumble. (especially the stumbles). It's a commitment to live fully through the messy parts and the chaos. The goal is and always will be to live every bit of it – deeply and honestly. We collect moments like tiny souvenirs, the last-minute panic before presentations, the laughter in the canteen that becomes uncontrollable for no reason, (well, not no reason, it continues because of that one friend whose laugh is funnier than the joke), the monsoon chai breaks that feel like poetry, the ever- beautiful sunset of Kochi (there's a spot near the MPH that has breathtaking view), the chaos of events where everyone becomes family and the quiet, warm moments where you look around and realize: these are the memories you'll return to someday.

And from now on, those memories will not just live in our hearts, they will live in print. Bound, preserved, documented. When the pages of this newspaper land in hands across campus, they will carry more than words. They will carry the pulse of this place, the spirit of Batch 12 and 13 and the promise that memories matter.

As I write this, I am grateful for every second I have lived here and every moment yet to come. And if someday, years from now, life gets too loud, I know I will return to these pages, to the echoes of laughter, the warmth of friendships, the faith of mentors and the magic of ordinary days that didn't feel special at the time but shaped who we became.

So here's to Echoes of XIME,

a new voice, a new legacy and a new beginning.

May it carry our stories far.

May it remind us that every ending is just another beautiful start.

May it grow, evolve and continue to capture the heartbeat of this campus for years to come.

With Warmth and hope ,

Our college is a place where ideas grow, talents shine, and students become confident professionals. From academics to cultural events, we offer countless opportunities to explore, innovate, and shape a brighter future.

~Aditya Panicker, Batch 13

In this community of learning, we believe education is more than books and classrooms—it is the journey of discovering one's abilities, embracing creativity, and exploring limitless opportunities. Our mission is to empower every student to step into the world with confidence, competence, and a vision for a brighter tomorrow."

~Ayush Raj Batch 13

"The First Year"

Beyond the gates, new worlds unfold,
Fresh dreams awaken, young and bold.
New voices echo, hopes appear,
The journey starts, the path is clear.

Books and deadlines mark the days,
New lessons learned in countless ways.
Each challenge faced, each fear they fight,
Builds courage glowing through the night.

Through laughter shared and friendships true,
In fests and halls, their spirits grew.
The hostel walls with stories cheer,
Of bonds that bloom and hearts sincere.

Amid the rush, one truth feels near—
Growth begins the first college year.
Where freedom calls and dreams run free,
They shape the selves they're meant to be.
